

1. Visualising

Use all of your senses to see, feel, hear, smell and even taste what is happening in the text. Make a movie in your head.

2. Questioning

As you read ask yourself questions. Ask about things you don't understand, you are not sure of, and things that you start to wonder about.

Use all of your senses when you read

Use your imagination to help you see, hear, smell, feel, and even taste what you are reading. If you do this you will have more understanding of what you read.
